Foreword

Deputy Director Mental Health, Ministry of Health

The Consortium of Humanitarian Agencies has been a pioneering organization in mapping of activities carried out by humanitarian organizations and has extensive experience in developing and publishing psychosocial service provision information in print and electronic versions as tools for public access in general. I am honored to provide my inputs to this valuable initiative.

The objective surrounding this initiative is to map all organizations that provide psychosocial services in Sri Lanka as at 2013. The Directory of the “Mental Health and Psychosocial Service Providers in Sri Lanka” reflects information of local and international NGO’s which provide psychosocial services. It also provides important contact information of important Governmental hotlines, Hospitals and services. Furthermore this tool will be useful to the humanitarian field as many organizations have either phased out or stopped providing psychosocial services.

The value of such a publication is immense, as it would support to identify psychosocial services to holistically address needs of the communities, and promote inter-agency collaboration leading towards timely interventions.

This directory would not only be of use to the field but also for those who are intending to work in Sri Lanka. A word of gratitude must, therefore, be given to all those who have made this happen.

Dr. Rasanjalee Hettiarachchi

Deputy Director Mental Health
Ministry of Health

Message from Executive Director, CHA

We are pleased to present to you the directory of “Mental Health and Psychosocial Service Providers in Sri Lanka”, through the effort of the Psychosocial Programme of CHA funded by The Asia Foundation. The Directory includes profiles of psychosocial service organizations.

In this edition we have included organizations that have continued to sustain efforts providing psychosocial interventions in the country, seeking to serve those affected by natural and manmade disasters, psychosocial capacity development, and enhancing greater psychosocial well-being of communities. We applaud their commitment to serve the people of Sri Lanka and extend our support to assist them in their endeavors.

We thank all the organizations for the varied information they have submitted. For this reason, we have compiled a directory that provides detailed and informative facts on the types and nature of psychosocial programmes conducted in the all the 25 districts. It is our wish that information contained here will be of assistance to form partnerships and networks as well as to coordinate interventions of all actors involved in the humanitarian sector for the benefit of those whom we serve.

Jeevan Thiagarajah

Executive Director

Acknowledgements

The Directory of “Mental Health and Psychosocial Service Providers in Sri Lanka” has been the result of an extensive, collaborative and consultative process, engaging a considerable number of people around the country - too many to mention individually by name. Completion of such a Directory was not an easy task. It would not have been completed if not for the timely support of several persons.

CHA wishes to acknowledge and thank the following personnel, institutions, organizations with heartfelt gratitude:

- The Government representatives departments and Institutions. The Ministry of Health, Directorate of Mental Health, the Social Services Ministry, and the National Child Protection Authority for directly providing information for the Directory. Special thanks goes to Dr. Rasanjalee Hettiarachchi, Deputy Director Mental Health, Mrs. Sukumar, Secretary to Ministry of Social Services, Mr. Ramamoorthy, Director Planning to Ministry of Social Services, for the valuable suggestions, inputs and timely contributions made.
- The Capacity Building Working Group Members of the National Psychosocial Forum and the experts who supported in developing the directory.
- All the district based psychosocial coordinators who were involved in data collection and mapping of the field and the Psychosocial District Networks.
- All the organizations who consented to be a part of the Directory by providing information of their ongoing work
- Last but not least, the CHA acknowledges the support of the USAID and The Asia Foundation, for identifying the importance of the proposed initiative to map the psychosocial service providers in Sri Lanka, and for the valuable technical support, guidance and mutual understanding provided right throughout the project.

This project would not have been possible if not for the above mentioned entities!!

The Project Team

Psychosocial Programme Unit – CHA

Introduction

The project aimed to develop a comprehensive Directory and a web database on island wide mental health and psychosocial services offered primarily by the humanitarian institutions and organizations working in Sri Lanka as at 2013. A dire need existed in collating information of services offered by existing Non-Governmental organizations as the humanitarian field has undergone many changes towards the services offered by I/NGOs in the recent past. The phasing out of a majority of organizations providing psychosocial services in the country raised an absolute need in re-updating the existing service databases on psychosocial services.

The Consortium of Humanitarian Agencies (CHA) has been developing and updating databases for psychosocial service provisions since the post tsunami period. Such existing databases included information of psychosocial services offered by the tsunami affected and war affected districts in Sri Lanka. These databases were outdated as most of the information comprised details of services offered up to the year 2009. Furthermore, within the present context, there is no available database/tool which provides information on psychosocial service provisions of all the 25 districts in the country.

In considering of the above, the Psychosocial Programme Unit of the CHA took a lead in developing a publication which entails information of organizations providing psychosocial services with the following main objectives

- Mapping and tracking organizations providing psychosocial services in all 25 districts.
- Producing a comprehensive psychosocial services Directory in print and electronic versions of advanced but simple software with updating and upgrading facilities.
- Incorporate information in the Database pertaining to the Government Approval processes, guidelines for humanitarian organizations and important contact information of Government focal points.

The key processes of the development of the Directory and the web database of mental health and psychosocial service providers in Sri Lanka included the following

1. Conducting a thorough literature review of existing databases, directories and available information of psychosocial service provisions in the country. On this behalf, the following databases/materials were screened:
 - a. NGO National Secretariat list, CHA membership Directories, Ministry of Social Service Secretariat list on counseling providers, UN - OCHA list of the PS service providers in the Northern East, Directory of Mental Health Service Providers in Sri Lanka 2009, the Psychosocial Forum member list of CHA and district psychosocial network databases
2. Conducting discussions with the government authorities and the national psychosocial fora and district based psychosocial networks, to notify them of the initiative and request for co-operation/buy-in towards this process.
3. Conducting of an in-depth screening process to identify the existing psychosocial service providers and the nature of the services offered.
4. Involving the Capacity building working Group of the National Psychosocial Forum which consisted of experts from the psychosocial sector to provide inputs for the processes of the project initiatives.
5. Conducting of a pre-test amongst the target groups prior to finalization of the tools in Sinhala, Tamil and English languages for data collection purposes.
6. Finalization of the tools and translated versions with inputs from an expert panel.
7. Liaising with the district based coordinating focal points for psychosocial and mental health work from the Government and the NGO sector to get inputs and study the district context pertaining to existing psychosocial services
8. Forming a group of coordinating focal points to represent each district of the country and conduct data collection and cross checking mandates of relevant psychosocial organizations.
9. Conducting periodic reviews of the information collected and screening for relevance of the work performed by the organizations to be considered under the umbrella of psychosocial work.
10. Involving an expert team to design and develop the web database for updating and upgrading facilities.
11. Liaising with the relevant Government focal points to obtain specific latest Government service delivery information and conducting cross-checks with relevant departments.
12. Involving a team of trained personnel for data entering, coding and cross-checking information in line with the data collected.

13. Sharing the final draft product (Database and print draft to be published) with all relevant involved counterparts, i.e., District coordinating focal points, Expert working group of the Psychosocial Forum and internal review teams of the CHA.

The final outcomes of the initiative provided with a Directory are:

1. Comprehensive mapping of available PS service of humanitarian organizations in Sri Lanka with all essential information such as geographic, type of organization, nature of service, medium of services, nature of funding, mandate, working divisions and districts.
2. Details of available PSS trainers and counselors in Sri Lanka, with their official Contact details.
3. Important contact information of government hotline services.
4. Special section in the database providing information on registration and approval processes pertaining to I/NGO's in Sri Lanka.

It is noteworthy that the organizations listed in this Directory were considered as 'psychosocial' service providers in considering the broad spectrum within the psychosocial domain. The project envisaged 'Psychosocial' as an element which refers to the dynamic relationship between psychological and social dimensions. The psychological dimension considered including all internal, emotional, and thought processes - people's feelings and reactions. The social dimension was considered as phenomena including relationships, social values, cultural practices, and family as well as community networks. Therefore, psychosocial support was considered as actions which address people's psychological and social needs. On a broader sense 'psychosocial' is considered as an 'approach'. On that note, psychosocial interventions are considered as key elements integrated in emergency response operations as well as long-term development programs. Whilst noting that psychosocial support activities should improve communication; re-establish social support in the community; and support people's efforts to actively respond to the impact of critical events, the following interventions are considered as some of the common psychosocial interventions being practised in Sri Lanka.

Common psychosocial interventions being practised in Sri Lanka

|-----------------------------|---|
| • Be-friending | • Protection |
| • Counseling | • Rehabilitation and reintegration |
| • Play activities | • Ensuring better quality services |
| • Creating awareness | • Networking and coordination |

| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Meeting practical needs (in considering PS Conditions) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Psychosocial capacity building |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Support groups of any kind | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Specialized mental health related interventions |

In order for an intervention to be called a `psychosocial intervention, the element of the `process in which` the activity is being carried out must be considered. Its adherence to certain psychosocial values and principles which protect and promote the psychosocial well-being of an individual and a community makes this process distinctive. Thus, it is noteworthy that the project had its limitations posit by time constraints, resource constraints in specifically studying the `processes` through which organizations were conducting psychosocial activities/interventions in general. However, CHA's ultimate objective was to provide a reliable database that would provide an understanding of the available service provisions by organizations that fall within a broad category of psychosocial work. CHA hopes that a greater audience will benefit from the information presented in this directory.

It is also noteworthy, that this Directory is a product of the untiring efforts of the psychosocial programme team and many other personnel. We hope to continue this endeavor of providing information to communities by updating and upgrading information of this publication on an annual basis.

Mission of the organization and description:

Description: The Regional Coordinator is located in Colombo. Global Youth Coalition on HIV/AIDS does not have an office at present, but conducts and implements their work by partnering with other NGO's and INGO's. For information or inquiries contact the Regional Coordinator, Mr. Amila Wensiri

About GYCA: GYCA seeks to improve HIV and AIDS policies and programming geared toward young people by facilitating the inclusion of skilled young leaders in decision-making that affects their lives. For example, GYCA has coordinated the inclusion of young leaders on government delegations through which they have addressed the UN General Assembly and dialogues directly with Ministers of Health and Education. GYCA has secured prominent advocacy opportunities for powerful young leaders affected and infected with HIV, such as, the opening ceremony and plenary sessions at International AIDS Conferences. GYCA also connects young people to positions in their countries from which they can affect great change, such as employment with National AIDS Control Organizations, heading NGOs and designing effective prevention and outreach programs.

Mission of the organization and description:

By working together, we ensure that people in Sri Lanka understand how much older people contribute to society and that they must enjoy their right to healthcare, social services and economic and physical security.

HelpAge Sri Lanka (HASL) was set up in 1986 following the 1st World assembly on ageing held in Vienna in 1982. Initial services and programs were developed on the 62 recommendations of this world assembly, followed by the United Nations principles on older persons independence, participation, care, self-fulfillment and dignity declared in 1991. Programs were further adjusted in keeping with other UN conventions like the International Year of Older Persons 1999 and now HASL is developing policies in keeping with the recommendations of the 2nd world assembly on ageing held in Madrid in 2002.

HASL's objective is to improve the quality of life of all senior citizens in Sri Lanka, irrespective of religion, caste or race. We have two decades of experience working with vulnerable senior citizens and our work mainly covers providing health and eye care, training of volunteers for voluntary home care, youth education on respecting and caring for senior citizens and providing livelihood assistance.

Mission of the organization and description:

The Organization MARDAP (Mannar Association for Rehabilitation of Differently Able People) started in October 2002. It was registered on 30th. September 2003, under the Voluntary Social Service Organization (Registration and Supervision) Act. No..31 of 1980. The Registered No. is MND/SS/VOR/01

The objective of MARDAP is to rehabilitate and to raise equal rights, psycho, socio-economics of the differently able people to live with self-esteem and dignity. Mannar District consists of Five (5) DS/AGA Divisions namely, Mannar, Nanattan, Musali, Manthai West and Madhu. Its main objective is to provide Community Based Rehabilitation (CBR) Services to the traumatized, displaced and differently abled people in Mannar District. We have identified about 2000 people with physical and mental disabilities in the district.

The CBR project has been a beneficial project for people. A team which gained sufficient knowledge, and skills in managing CBR, has been implementing this project. Through the implementation of this project every individual in the staff has gained experience in this field. However, the CBR team has been built with a view to foster Human Resource Development to a certain level; with the intention of extending the CBR project to other divisions in collaboration with the Social Service officers. We also conduct special educational programs for the Mentally Challenged, Hearing and Speech impaired children and Vocational Training for youngsters in the Mannar Town and at Murunkan. About 55 children participate in this training.

Vision:

“Worlds of Peace, Harmony Equality where differently able people are made to realize their full potentialities”.

Mission:

- MARDAP's mission is to provide services and opportunities for persons with disability in Mannar District to fully participate and develop their capacity in social, economic and political activities.

- Assure Access of people with disability at all sectors of the society, in order to protect and promote their rights, dignity and enable them to lead a meaningful life through economic, social, educational and political development.

Goal:

Enable disabled persons to receive information, health and rehabilitation services, skills training, employment and income generation opportunities, so that they have a better standard of living, more meaningful participation and choices in social and political activities, and serve as an important human resource to the Sri Lankan society.

The Objectives of MARDAP :

- To advocate for the rights of the differently - abled in the society.
- To promote them to integrate with the wider society.
- To encourage inclusive education for the differently - abled children.
- To create awareness in parents of the differently able of their responsibilities.
- To enable them to be self-reliant and self-supportive.
- To assist them to obtain all the legal documents including disabled identity card.

| Postal Address : | 6, Katukurunda, Moratuwa. | Telephone No : | + 94 112657193 |
| | | Email : | mahiya@gmail.com |

Mission of the organization and description:

The home was established 45 years ago, by a few philanthropists from Moratuwa. We have 35 inmates, of which the majority are orphans. The few who have families are usually taken home during the vacation. The home is managed by a home committee comprising six members, headed by the home warden, Ms Horny. There is a matron and an Asst matron, a teacher, two aides and one kitchen aide. The inmates are mostly past 40 years, the eldest being 65 and the youngest 11 years old. The major constraint is the lack of staff and this is a key issue, as it is extremely difficult to attract and recruit new people to work due to the low salaries afforded.

The daily running and maintenance cost of the Home is the responsibility of the National Council for Child and Youth Welfare, which has 7 homes under it. The funds are maintained by the Council and all money collected are maintained by the N/CCYW in a separate account for the Home.

Mostly, we are dependent on donor funding to tide over the soaring cost of living. Especially the meal donors and special donors, who voluntarily take care of maintenance, toiletries, groceries, etc., thereby the burden on the Council to source funds for these extra costs, is greatly eased.

We have a day school in the same premises. We have a curriculum developed for special needs children. The children are taught to write, arts and crafts, speech practice, dancing and handicrafts. We have a Rehabilitation Center to accommodate the older girls who are very good with their hands and turn out coir, coir carpets, sewing dusters, pillow cases etc., Some are very good in para athletics and have excelled in the Colombo District and also won the Western Province prize, as well. They are very talented and will benefit greatly if their training is continued un-interrupted.

Our girls also participate in camps, outdoor activities, art competitions, and we also have a Girl Guide Company and that regularly takes part in all activities of the Branch for the Differently - abled Guides of the Sri Lanka Girl Guides' Association.

In addition, we are also affiliated to the Ceylon Association for the Mentally Retarded under the name Sumaga Centre.

Mission of the organization and description :

Plan's Vision

Plan's vision is for a world in which all children realize their full potential in societies that respect people's rights and dignity.

Plan's mission

Plan aims to achieve lasting improvements in the quality of life of deprived children in developing countries, through a process that unites people across cultures and adds meaning and value to their lives, by -

- Enabling deprived children, their families and their communities, to meet their basic needs and to increase their ability to participate in and benefit from their societies.
- Building relationships to increase understanding and unity among people of different cultures and countries.
- Promoting the rights and interests of the world's children.

Plan, is a non-profit, humanitarian, child sponsorship organization that works in forty nine developing countries in Asia, Africa, South and Central America. There are 19 national offices and funds are raised for Plan's programs and projects through child sponsorship in these countries. The main focus of Plan's development activities is child centeredness that encompasses all activities, programs and projects. Participatory planning, project implementation and management of facilities by local organizations are the main thrust of Plan Sri Lanka's development strategy. Plan Sri Lanka currently implements its third Country Strategic Plan through five programs namely: health, education, livelihood, child protection and Disaster Risk Reduction.

Plan has worked in Sri Lanka from 1980 and the first Memorandum of Understanding was signed with the Ministry of Plan Implementation. Subsequently, Plan has registered with the Ministry of Social Services in 1993, per the Gazette notification of 21st December, 1993, signed an MoU with the Department of Social Services in 1994 (registration number 0231) and in March 2000 with the Ministry of Social Services as per the directive of the Government of Sri Lanka, under the registration number FL.08105. Plan's programs are carried out through 4 Program Units (PUs). Mission of the organization and description:

Samutthāna is the King's College London Resource Center for Trauma, Displacement and Mental Health. Samutthāna means "renewal" or "regeneration" in Sanskrit. The project was established with the help of a grant from CAFOD, by volunteers from the UK-Sri Lanka Trauma Group, Institute of Psychiatry, King's College London and the South London and Maudsley NHS Trust in the UK. During its first year of existence the Forum for Research and Development, Mangrove Network and Basic Needs were its local partners. The main aim of Samutthāna is to provide training and support for organizations and individuals responding to trauma related psychosocial needs of tsunami survivors and others who have experienced trauma in Sri Lanka. Through its training programme Samutthāna aims to contribute to capacity building in Sri Lanka's disaster preparedness and mental health care in general.

The Samutthāna Centre in Colombo houses a resource library of books, CD's and journals for mental health professionals, counselors, doctors, nurses, psychologists, teachers and others engaged in trauma, mental health and psychosocial work. Through the provision of material, resources and expert volunteers, the center aims to help develop skills in mental health workers and continue to support, monitor and evaluate their work through supervision.

Mission of the organization and description:

Vision

We look forward to a world that -

- Respects and values each child.
- Listens to children and learns from them.
- Affords hope and opportunity to all children.

Mission

Save the Children fights for children's rights. We deliver immediate and lasting improvements to children's lives worldwide.

Our Refreshed Values

Our values lie behind everything we do. They should be reflected in all our communications.

- We're outraged by child exploitation, neglect and suffering. We demand justice for the world's poorest and most vulnerable children
- We're ambitious about achieving dramatic change for children and we are determined to deliver it. We never give in to those who think that big changes are impossible.
- We're creative. We are always looking for new and better ways to help children, drawing on different perspectives and experiences around the world, especially those of children themselves. We are not afraid to provoke and surprise people if it gets the job done.
- We keep our promises to children and to our supporters and partners and to each other. We work hard to earn their trust, and we take responsibility for everything we say or do.

Activities in general :

- Advocacy/Lobbying
- Capacity Building
- Child care and Education
- Civil Society Strengthening
- Conflict Analysis
- Conflict Resolution and Transformation
- Conflict Sensitivity Approaches
- Education
- Gender Issues
- Medical Facility Rehabilitation
- Monitoring & Evaluation
- Peace Building
- Post -Tsunami
- Relief Services
- Research

Main psychosocial Service categories covered under the psychosocial program :

Though psychosocial is not identified as a thematic priority for Save the Children, the subject is contextualized as a cross cutting issue in the following four sectors:

- Protection of Children from Violence and Abuse: Children at risk of or affected by conflict, disaster, violence and abuse are protected by family, community and government at all levels.
- Basic Education and Early Childhood Development: Marginalized and vulnerable Sri Lankan children, particularly children affected by armed conflict, enjoy a quality educational experience through effective community participation and educational authority policy implementation and management.
- Household economic security: The 10% poorest households in areas where SC is working have secured minimum income to cover costs for fulfilling their children's survival and development rights
- Realizing Child Rights: Children and their families will have stronger, better resourced, more knowledgeable and more accessible political, legislative and community environments for advancing, monitoring and realizing all child rights, and have their vulnerabilities in disasters effectively addressed at policy levels.

Mission of the organization and description:

Mission:

Empowerment of Women. Savisthri is a non-governmental organization engaged in social work for the upliftment of needy women so as to place them on a better footing socially, economically and politically.

Activities in general:

- Advocacy/Lobbying
- Capacity Building
- Civil Society Strengthening

The Savisthri Organization does not work in isolation. It works with The Women's Action for Social Injustice

Main psychosocial service categories covered under the psychosocial program:

Supporting women who are affected by poverty.

eg : women in the farming, fishing and plantation sectors.

Overall activities conducted

At present "Savisthri" has a membership of 2317 and works in 67 vilages in 60 Grama Niladari divisions in the six districts, covering the above mentioned sectors. The women are encouraged to have their own home garden where fruits, vegetables, cereals, green leaves and yams are grown. After the produce is used for consumption, the balance is sold and will bring in an income for the family. The women are given training about the methods of plantation, for them to successfully cultivate these fruits, yams and vegetables. The seeds are provided free of charge.

Savisthri also has centers established in most of the villages where their requirements are purchased in bulk, which enables the members to buy them at low prices.

The organization also helps to settle disputes in the villages and avoid a recurrence of them and in order to make this effective, they have formed Human Rights Groups.

Mission of the organization and description :

The Asia Foundation is a non-profit international development organization committed to improving lives across a dynamic and developing Asia. Informed by six decades of experience and deep local expertise, our programs address critical issues affecting Asia in the 21st century — governance and law, economic development, women's empowerment, environment, and regional cooperation. In addition, our Books for Asia and professional exchange programs are among the ways we encourage Asia's continued development as a peaceful, just, and thriving region of the world.

Headquartered in San Francisco, The Asia Foundation works through a network of offices in 17 Asian countries and in Washington, DC. Working with public and private partners, the Foundation receives funding from a diverse group of bilateral and multilateral development agencies, foundations, corporations, and individuals. In 2012, we provided nearly $100 million in direct program support and distributed textbooks and other educational materials valued at over $30 million.

Mission of The Asia Foundation

The Asia Foundation improves lives, expands opportunities, and helps societies flourish across a dynamic and developing Asia. We work with innovative leaders and communities to build effective institutions and advance path breaking reforms. Together with our partners, we are committed to Asia's continued development as a peaceful, just, and thriving region of the world.

| Email : | colombo@unicef.org | Web : | www.unicef.org |

Mission of the organization and description :

UNICEF is mandated by the United Nations General Assembly to advocate for the protection of children's rights, to help meet their basic needs and to expand their opportunities to reach their full potential. UNICEF is guided by the Convention on the Rights of the Child and strives to establish children's rights as enduring ethical principles and international standards of behavior towards children. UNICEF insists that the survival, protection and development of children are universal development imperatives that are integral to human progress.

UNICEF mobilizes political will and material resources to help countries, particularly developing countries, ensure a "first call for children" and to build their capacity to form appropriate policies and deliver services for children and their families.

UNICEF is committed to ensuring special protection for the most disadvantaged children - victims of war, disasters, extreme poverty, all forms of violence and exploitation and those with disabilities.

UNICEF responds in emergencies to protect the rights of children. In coordination with United Nations partners and humanitarian agencies, UNICEF makes its unique facilities for rapid response available to its partners to relieve the suffering of children and those who provide their care.

UNICEF is non-partisan and its cooperation is free of discrimination. In everything it does, the most disadvantaged children and the countries in greatest need have priority.

UNICEF aims, through its country programmes, to promote the equal rights of women and girls and to support their full participation in the political, social, and economic development of their communities.

UNICEF works with all its partners towards the attainment of the sustainable human development goals adopted by the world community and the realization of the vision of peace and social progress enshrined in the Charter of the United Nations.

Mission of the organization and description :

Mission

To Promote Women to Break the Silence and Win against Violence, and to lead the way to a violence free Society and Increase their Coping Skills to Combat Violence against Women and Children. We aim at creating a society of mutual respect for both women and men and a society which is gender sensitive.

Description

Women In Need is a leading NGO in Sri Lanka providing services and support for women and children subject to domestic and all forms of violence. In the past few years WIN has grown immensely in terms of its outreach islandwide and the number of clients it supports.

It has been a long and difficult journey since its beginning in 1987. Today WIN has grown, reaching out to all nine provinces in the country providing a vital support service needed to victims of violence. WIN has nearly 25 years of experience in addressing Violence against Women and it consists of a large team of qualified staff at all our crisis centers islandwide.

Glossary

- Advocacy – Pressure on a person or agency to change attitudes, priorities or policies through strategies such as reporting, awareness-raising, lobbying, use of media, etc.,
- Approach - The underlying philosophies, theoretical perspectives or explanations that inform a particular way of working. For example, some psychosocial workers may adopt a community development approach so as not to exclude or stigmatize people, whilst others may choose to identify and work with those individuals needing specialized support.
- Appropriate Personal Boundaries – maintaining appropriate personal boundaries refer to working within the limits of a person’s professional role. These limits need to be respected in view of the influential position of the psychosocial worker with regard to the service user.
- Awareness raising programs – differ from training to the extent that they focus on providing information on a particular topic or topics in order to broaden the sphere of options for participants.
- Be-friending – has a less formal structure than counseling and involves inculcating a caring attitude towards the individuals concerned within the daily context of people’s lives. It is not identified as a professional helping service.
- Breach of confidentiality – revealing personal information of the service user, without his/her permission.
- Burnout – Distressing physical and emotional reactions resulting from not being able to cope with very demanding work, especially when it requires great personal involvement and commitment.
- Caregiver – Any person responsible for or involved in providing care for a child. This includes parents, family members, and members of the extended family, guardians or members of a foster family.
- Child – any person under 18 years of age
- Child abuse – Physical, emotional, verbal, sexual or developmental maltreatment of a child.
- Competence – Possessing of the skills, knowledge, attitudes and judgment required for carrying out psychosocial work.
- Confidentiality – All actions undertaken to ensure that personal information gained whilst working with service users is not disclosed without their prior permission.
- Coordination - The process of sharing information and resources amongst individuals and agencies and undertaking action to maximize resource utilization.
- Counseling - A structured and formal process of helping individuals or groups to effectively deal with their difficulties and relieve their suffering through specialized skills and techniques. Service providers entering a counseling relationship are bound by the ethics of the counseling process.

- Counselor – A person who has been trained in the counseling process and who offers counseling as a service to others.
- Data Collection – Systematic gathering of quantitative and qualitative information for analysis.
- Dignity – Sense of self-respect and recognition of one’s humanity.
- Discrimination – The unequal treatment of individuals or group based on characteristics such as race, sex, ethnicity, cultural background, religion, etc.,
- Disempowerment – losing the ability to control one’s own life as a result of not having the relevant support and information through the use of force.
- Do No Harm Concept – A development approach suggesting that agencies consider possible negative repercussions of their program and activities, and act with responsibility.
- Duplication – More than one agency providing the same service using the same approach for the same target group in the same geographical area.
- Ethical Conduct – Personal behaviors of psychosocial workers or practices of agencies in line with the principles of psychosocial work.
- Evaluation – The process of making a judgment on the impact effectiveness, efficiency, relevance and sustainability of a service, project or program, with a strong emphasis on outcomes, assumptions, and lessons learnt for the future.
- Exploit – To take advantage of another’s vulnerability.
- Fraud – Wrongful or criminal deception intended to result in personal or financial gain.
- Human Rights Violations – Acts that take away the rights of an individual or groups set out in the universal declaration of Human rights.
- Informed consent – Permission given by a service user based on an understanding of the nature of service or research, the consequences and risks involved in sharing personal information, and the knowledge of available alternative services. Informed consent should be obtained prior to the delivery of the service or research.
- Intimate Relationship – A relationship having romantic connotations or sexual contact between individuals of the opposite or same sex, this also includes culturally inappropriate physical contact.
- Job Description – A document about the job detailing extent of responsibilities, tasks and the skills required to carry out the work.
- Learning Style – Refers to the different approaches or ways of learning. The common learning styles include learning by seeing, doing or listening. Whilst many people have a dominant way of learning, it is thought to be more effective if more than one approach to training or teaching is provided.
- Line Manager – Person who is the immediate administrative senior.
- Maintaining the best interest of the child – all decisions relating to a child where their psychological and social wellbeing takes primary precedence.
- Managerial Supervision – Aspects of supervision related to the duties and responsibilities of psychosocial workers.

- Marginalization – the deliberate act of withholding equal rights and opportunities for particular groups of people by those who have the power to do so.
- Misinterpretation – To distort or provide inaccurate information related to the service provided.
- Monitoring – The process of regular and ongoing assessment of progress so that appropriate adjustments can be made.
- Needs Assessment – A set of methods used to reasonably establish the nature and extent of need through consultations, research or other methods prior to service provisions.
- Neutrality – Making decisions with regard to delivery of services based on evidence of humanitarian need rather than external influences such as political, ethnic, religious and social pressure.
- Oppression – the process of preventing individuals or groups of exercising their rights.
- Peer Group Supervision – Refers to the set up where a group of peers meet together to provide ongoing consultation, support and networking. The set-up can enhance interpersonal learning and can provide the same benefits of technical supervision if done.
- Perpetrator – One who has carried out an abusive or criminal act.
- Power Relations – The role that the differences in power play in a relationship between the services used and the psychosocial worker. Differences in Power could result from the political, social or financial position of those involved.
- Prejudice – a negative attitude towards a person or a group based on stereotypes and characteristics such as sex, age, race, ethnicity, geographical location, political affiliation, etc.,
- Prescriptive – Rigid formal instructions on what to do, and how to do it.
- Professionalism – Ethical conduct and competence.
- Program - A number of projects, activities or services designed to achieve an overall objective.
- Project – A set of activities meant to deliver a service to a specific target group within a set timeframe.
- Psychosocial – The term is coined to explicitly acknowledge the cultural, social, and psychological influences on wellbeing, in the context of economic, environment and physical resources. It describes the continuous and close relationship between the psychological and social aspects of people’s experiences. Psychological refers to people’s emotions, behaviors, thoughts, memories, learning ability, and how a situation perceived and understood. “Social” referred to the nature of people’s relationships to each other, their cultural values, and social institutions.
- Psychosocial Agency – An agency or Government body that delivers psychosocial services
- Psychosocial Wellbeing - refers to an enhanced emotional, mental, physical and social state of a person, within their economic, social and cultural settings.
- Psychosocial Worker – Psychosocial Workers are those trained to enhance the psychosocial wellbeing of people in difficult circumstances.

- Referral – To help a service user access other services
- Research – A systematic investigation to collect and analyze facts, information and experiences in order to enhance knowledge and practice.
- Self – Awareness – the state of knowing the emotional and mental condition of oneself, as well as one’s strengths and weaknesses, preferences and biases.
- Stereotype – A set of characteristics used to describe a group of people that fail to take into account individuality of the group members.
- Stigmatization – the state of being negatively labeled because a person cannot, or does not, conform to social norms.
- Supervision – A process where psychosocial workers are given the opportunity to discuss their work, so that areas of concern and difficulty are identified and guidance given where necessary.
- Supervisor - A person who has sufficient training and experience to engage in the supervision process and who is currently providing such a service.
- Support strategies – any constructive activity or interaction used to relieve stress.
- Technical supervision – Aspects of supervision related to the competence and ethical conduct of psychosocial workers.
- Tolerance – Involves two components: Firstly, an awareness that cultural, social and individual differences exist between people and in the way they chose to live; Secondly the acceptance that these differences are not necessarily good or bad but are a result of their experiences, preferences and resources. Tolerance is different from approval in the sense that society may tolerate a diversity of lifestyles even when a majority of its members do not approve of the different behavior.
- Torture –Any action that dehumanizes and victimizes a person through cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment.
- Training – The process of building knowledge and skills in selected participants to a satisfactory level using a variety of strategies and mechanisms. A training program is a time-bound set of activities focusing on coherent themes, which provides the participants with a good conceptual background, is culturally relevant and practical, and contains elements of supervision, monitoring and evaluation.
- Therapeutic services – support that helps a person to emotionally heal and cope with feeling of distress
- Transparency – openness in decision making process, service provision, project implementation and financial transactions.
- Triangulation Method – A research methodology to check and re- check with at least three different sources to improve integrity of research.
